"All your strength is in your union, all your danger is in discord."

Longfellow

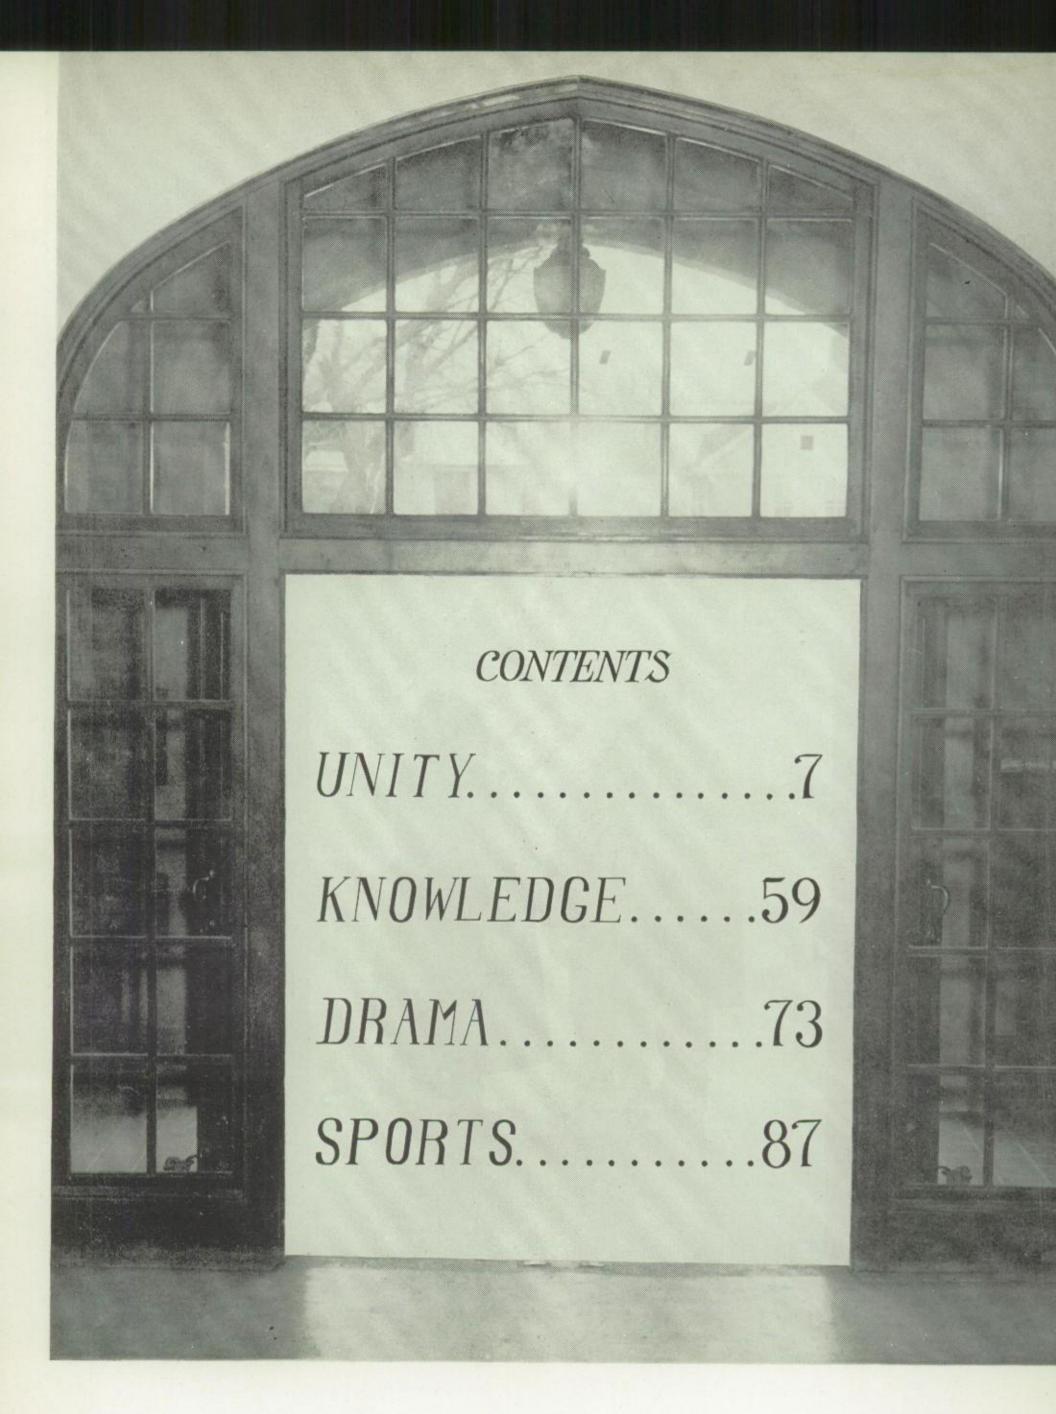

Foreword

Built around the theme of the crest is a tangible record of the past year of school life at Fargo High School. The outer wreath of the crest is symbolic of unity; knowledge is represented by the torch; the mask portrays drama; and for sports there is a winged shoe. No one part is more important than the other, but each is of individual value. Combine these things, and a symbol of our past year will be formed.

Dedication

We of the 1955 Cynosure Annual Staff dedicate this book to Ruth Ramstad, who, for the past thirty-two years, has efficiently and patiently carried out the duties of secretary for the Fargo High School office. Countless hours of her time have gone into the unseen work which is necessary for the smooth operation of our school. For the years of fine, courteous service as our secretary, we commend you, Miss Ramstad.

Upon completing our second year at Fargo High, the junior class can surely call it a successful one. We have struggled through our trials and temptations, earned more money than we can handle, and can term it as "one great year."

Looking back on our fun-filled year, we see many things: our first day at school, singing "we are the Juniors," understandably a bit cocky . . . entering a float in the Midget Day parade, winning second place . . . some of our class mates plowing across the 100-yard pasture . . . Christmas vacation . . . four beginning juniors on the basketball team . . . working like fiends to raise money for our prom . . . trying to wring class dues out of our chums that ol' spring fever graduation weekend . . . and finally a closed chapter on our second year at Fargo High School, a

KATHLEEN WIELAND

From the first time we sang "We are the sophomores," until we autographed our friends' annuals on Class Day, we, the Class of 1957, have thoroughly enjoyed being the "little people" at Fargo High.

Electing representatives to the Student Council and choosing class officers took much of our time the first few weeks of school. Althouth many hours were spent at football and basketball practice, writing for the Bi-Weekly and pasting pictures for the Annual, we managed to place more students on the honor roll during the year than the other two classes. Noon-hour candy sales and a sophomore dance in April were our main money-making projects.

Although we are certain that our next two years here will contain many memorable events, our sophomore year and all its "firsts" will always be remembered.

ROBERTA WICK Secretary to the Superintendent

HAMILTON G. VASEY Superintendent of Schools

"Unity" is an appropriate theme for the 1954-55 school year. Our more obvious achievements have been brought about through unified actions of students, teachers, or student-teacher groups, or student-teacher-parent groups, working in unity for common purposes.

Our many successful activities cause us to come quite naturally to the conclusion that we have had a successful year. In judging our entire school program, however, we must admit that the whole is equal to more than the sum of its obvious parts.

Illustrations may help to make this clear. The marble sand pile to which Venus de Milo may be reduced does not equal the statue, though every last grain be saved; nor does the rubble heap to which our capitol building may be reduced equal the present inspiring structure, even though every last particle remains in the vicinity.

In reviewing our year, we must try to account for many unseen parts and relationships; the central designs or purposes of our school must not be lost.

Here again we may return to the word "Unity". One of the purposes of our school is to graduate individuals each with a unity within himself. This unity involves many not so obvious parts, such as an enthusiasm for life and a mentally alert, morally sound "self" that the individual can at least tolerate for the remaining sixty-odd years.

We have considerable evidence of unified individuals working in unity with others for the general welfare of all. I feel that we have had a most successful year.

Board of Education

The Board of Education is composed of civic-minded individuals who are elected in special elections to serve for three years. They see to it that we have competent instructors and the necessary equipment to get the best education society has to offer us.

P. T. A.

This organization meets to inform the parents about the activities of our school. A "Back-to-School" night, a Christmas program, and an exhibition of what the students have been doing during the year are a part of their programs. They help to unify the parent-teacher-student relationship of Fargo High.

The two main goals of these teachers are to build sound bodies and to teach the students to be better sportsmen in all that they do. Besides teaching swimming and the rules of different games to the girls, Mrs. Ihlenfeld is the adviser of the G. A. C., while Mrs. Melvey advises the Pep Club. Mr. Manley coaches the boys in swimming, and Mr. Teie is the 'B' squad basketball coach and also the sophomore class adviser.

Commercial Department

Business arithmetic is taught by Mr. Galvin and Mr. Nygaard. The instructors of typing and stenography are Mr. Nelson and Mrs. Anderson. Mr. Krueger informs us of the problems that may arise in the business world and also is the adviser of Cooperative Education. The very capable adviser of the Cynosure Annual is Mr. Nelson.

A good example of the unity of Fargo High is the clubs. With our many interests and various types of clubs we are closely united by the common ideal of promoting the good name of Fargo High.

This year the Student Council has done a commendable job in smoothing out the various "wrinkles" in the student body. Some of their achievements are the following: instituting a milk break after second hour, sponsoring the talent shows, and proposing a new system of electing class officers.

The club's primary purpose is to cultivate the individual's interest in a myriad of subjects. THESPIAN and HARLEQUIN develop dramatic talents; DEBATE improves speaking ability and shows the way to clear thinking on both sides of an issue; G. A. C. promotes better sportsmanship and interest in intramural sports; SCIENCE CLUB combines knowledge with pleasure to develop keener understanding of science; TRIPOLITAN gives its members a broader scope of "Continental" life and customs besides stimulating an interest in travel; CHESS maneuvers are comparable to maneuvers in life and prepare us for good mental functioning; PEP CLUB promotes a sense of loyalty and fair play and instills in us the school spirit; all phases of homemaking are developed in F. H. A.; RED CROSS teaches us to get along better with people and help others in a year-round Brother-hood Week; PALETTE CLUB brings out our artistic talents and works to beautify our school. These are the organizations that typify unity in Fargo High.

The theme of unity is again represented in the consolidated efforts of the annual staff. This year's annual, we believe, truly represents all phases of our past school year and will serve as a storehouse of golden memories as the years go by.

The business staff has been busy taking care of the various financial problems, while the literary staff has been working to put forth reminders of the year's activities in a pleasing form. With the last copy sent in and the deadline met, we give a sigh of relief and relax with the belief of having done our best to benefit the school—again through UNITY.

Sharon Shepard—business manager

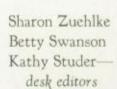

Jean Monson, Barbara Kranch-club editors

Nothing is more eagerly awaited than our Cynosure Bi-Weekly, which is issued on periodical Thursdays.

Our school paper contains pertinent school news, editorials, and items submitted by students.

It is doubtful if the students realize how much work is involved in editing our paper. This year's editor, Marlys Moum, has done an outstanding job in coordinating the efforts of her able staff. The business staff has worked hard in financing the paper. The whole staff deserves great credit for such an informative and well-rounded paper as we have had this year.

The Cynosure of the Air, while being a comparatively new organization in Fargo High, holds a prominent place in our school life. Every Monday evening at 7:15, the students listen to news of latest developments in the clubs, the Student Council, the music departments, and others.

There are also sport news, talent from Fargo High, and personal comments. The staff has worked hard this year and has done an admirable job.

The Italian Street Scene

All was quiet on February 17, 18, and 19, when the curtain went up on Victor Hubert's operetta, "Naughty Marietta". The students of Fargo High, under the direction of Lawrence Gidmark, combined their talents to make this the biggest event of the year.

Almost every student was in some way affiliated with some part of the operetta, whether it was the printing of programs, the painting of scenery, or the designing of costumes.

The Grande Finale

Local

To participate in the Student Council-sponsored Talent Show, students were first required to try out. Two daytime shows were then made up and presented to the students during regular assembly periods on January 7 and March 9. The best acts were chosen for the evening shows on April 1 and 2. As an added attraction this year a stage band accompanied the acts instead of the usual recorded music.

Different school organizations are in charge of skits presented during pep assemblies. The Cynosure Annual and the Bi-Weekly also present skits in the fall of the year to promote the sale of the year-book and the paper. These are written and presented by the students themselves.

"Is that so!"

Ray Morrau, director

Band

Blending the voices of the instruments, ranging from the lilting soprano of the piccolo to the deep, resounding voice of the bass horn, into one unified harmoniou sound—that is the job of our capable band director, Mr. Ray Morrau.

This year the concert band, boasting a membership of 90 budding musicians was heard in concert on three occasions: the regular mid-winter and spring concerts and the North Dakota Eastern Class A Band Festival. Not soon forgotten in th hearts of those who performed and of those who listened are such numbers as "Elsa" Procession to the Cathedral" from Lohengrin, by Wagner; "Summer Day Suite," b Rokof; and "Parading the Brasses", by Ostling.

The marching band also had good reason to boast this year, capturing firs place in marching competition at the Moorhead Sugar Beet Festival, besides marchin in numerous parades and performing during half-time at our football games.

Also forming a vital part of our band department are the pep band, which play for basketball games and pep assemblies, and the second band, which trains student in the fundamentals and prepares them for the concert band.

Mr. Lawrence Gidmark, vocal director

A CAPPELLA:

This year has been a successful one for the A Cappella, both from the standpoint of public performance and from the benefits received by its members. The A Cappella, under the capable direction of Mr. Lawrence Gidmark, is a select group, its membership consisting of students selected by try-outs from the junior and senior classes.

The members of the A Cappella were given many chances to exhibit their vocal abilities this year—singing for the PTA at Christmas; recording for KFGO; caroling in the halls; their annual visit to the Rotary Club; participating in the operetta, "Naughty Marietta"; singing in a spring concert; and climaxing with the Spring Vocal Festival at Grand Forks.

An ensemble, composed of 30 members of the A Cappella, also sang for the St. Luke's Nurses Home Christmas Party and sang selections from "Naughty Marietta" over WDAY-TV.

Boys' Glee Club

Row 1—Mike Joelson, Ed Powers, Jerome Peterson, Kent Knutson, Robert Rollins, David Scott, Row 2—Wayne Zirbes, Tom Wright, Phil Smith, Marvin Slettum, Benjamin Bratland.

Playing a most important role in the musical education of our students are the glee clubs. Besides instructing them in correct vocal techniques, Mr. Gidmark also instills in the hearts of the members a basic understanding and appreciation of music.

It was a busy year for the glee clubs, with singing in the Christmas and Spring concerts, the vocal festival, recording for KFGO, and contributing a necessary part to the success of the operetta.

Sophomore Choir

With a membership of 180 up and coming singers, the sophomore choir has every right to be proud of its achievements this year. Displaying its skill at both the Christmas and Spring concerts, the sophomore choir sang such selections as "Heavenly Love Abiding," by Mendelssohnn; "The Heavens Resound," by Beethoven; and an English hunting song, "John Peel." It is divided into two equal groups, each meeting twice a week.

Orchestra

One of the most professional sounding organizations of Fargo High's well-rounded music department is the Fargo High School Orchestra. Demanding perfection from his young musicians, Mr. Berquist can be seen putting them through their paces during the fifth hour, Monday through Friday. The orchestra, composed of 67 players, has gained the reputation of being one of the finest high-school orchestras in this area.

Variety was the keynote in the selection of pieces played by the orchestra this year. Catering to the tastes of the highbrow as well as the lowbrow, the orchestra played pieces ranging from Joseph Haydn to Leroy Anderson.

A smaller orchestra, consisting of members chosen from the concert orchestras, provided the orchestral background for the operetta, "Naughty Marietta."

Coming '54

Homecoming 1954, opened the fall schedule of events with a two day celebration. Starting off the festivities, Jean MacGregor was crowned Queen Midget III on Thursday. Bands, floats, and cars made up the parade, as it pursued its way down Broadway to Channey Field on Friday afternoon. Even through wind and rain, the theme, "Knife Those Forkers", brought the "mighty midgets" in front in the first half.

During half time the spectators were entertained by the band and majorettes, which were a new addition to the festivities. With the Queen reigning over the game, the team climaxed the events with a 20-6 win over the Grand Forks Redskins. Homecoming 1954 had come to a perfect end.

Swimming

Fargo High tank men splashed to four victories in six meets this past year under the guidance of their new coach, Tom Manley. Co-captains for this year's team were seniors Jim Lund and Bernard Altenburg. Jack Gilbert, also a senior, did a notable job in helping the team gain victories against Morris, Crookston, and Minneapolis. They dropped meets to Chisholm and Hibbing.

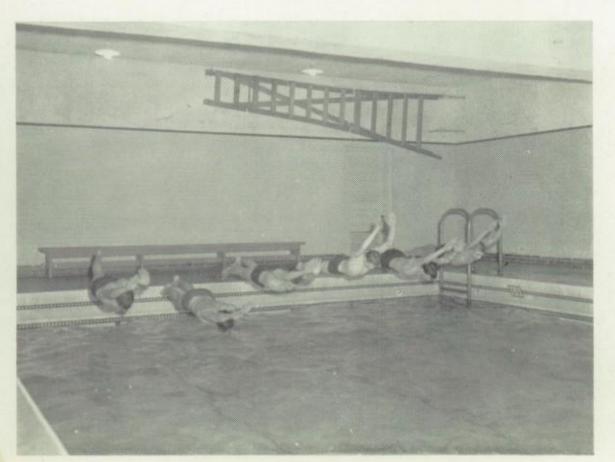

The swimming team is commended for the fine job they have done this year.

"Pooling Around!"

Girls' Athletic Club activities take a spotlite in Fargo High's intramural sports program. Basketball, which occupies a greater part of the mid-winter season, seems to take the favorite role. This year the Chimps, a senior team, took the school honors for the second year. The Kigmies and Didgets were champs of their respective classes and then met defeat in championship rounds.

The swimming pool has an attraction all its own, and Monday and Tuesday nights find it filled to capacity. Apparatus and mats are also worked on often.

Sports

Activities, such as bowling, tennis, golf, and square dancing, help form a well-rounded intramural program.

Bowling honors go to the B.A.C.C.'s (a secret name), in winning over team competition. Marlys Moum is FHS's women golf champ, with Mary Meckstroth taking the runner-up position. In tennis Karen Knutson defeated Carolyn Hanson to take the title.

Again this year a social dance program was used, and from this, square dancing took the name of recreation also.

G.A.C., in its intramural program, helps form a bond of unity between the different classes, bringing an abundance of health, fun, and fellowship to all who participate.

In there for a strike.

Cheerleaders

"All set? You bet . . ." With smiles and pep these six yell leaders helped to lead our mighty midgets on to victories. Composing the "A" squad are, left to right in the top picture, Shirley Weisz, Sharon Zuehlke, Jean MacGregor, Miriam Johnson, Deanna Carter, and JoAnn Nelson. The student body, the teams, and cheerleaders formed a unity this year that helped bring fame to our Alma Mater.

We of the 1955 Cynosure Annual staff have tried to tell you, the reader, how the students, faculty, and administration are unified in their efforts to make this a better school.

They do it not only by working together in school hours but also by working on extra-curricular activities. The operetta, one-act plays, talent shows, senior class play, science fair, concerts, parades, and many other things have made up our school year. The Cynosure Bi-Weekly is a credit to FHS and can be highly pleased with its achievements.

Watchful eyes of the Ogre.

We are proud of our basketball, football, hockey, swimming, and track teams, who all did a magnificent job of promoting fair play and sportsmanship outside of school. Many of the clubs had welfare and community projects which showed the people of Fargo that we are interested not only in ourselves but also in them.

This annual has tried to record for you by picture the important events of the school year. Of course, there are many incidents which were not caught by the photographer's lens and many humorous episodes which we wish we could have included. It is our hope that you have enjoyed and will continue to enjoy the preceding 105 pages and that you will want to refer to this book many times in the future.
